Cotton quota to be voted Dec. 14

John C. Cronley, chairman of the Bulloch County ASC Committee, states that 1955 cotton acreage allotment notices will be mailed to Bulloch county farmers as soon as the State ASC office announces county allotments are official. The 1955 cotton acreage allotment will be based on the planted acreage history for 1952, 1953 and 1954. The national referendum on upland cotton marketing quotas will be held December 14, 1954. At least two thirds of the farmers voting must favor quotas before they may continue in effect. Marketing quotas operate through acreage allotments. A grower who exceeds the cotton acreage allotment for his farm, under a cotton marketing quota program, will be subject to a marketing quota penalty of 50 per cent of party on the farm's excess production. Growers who do not exceed their cotton allotment may market free of penalties all the 1955 cotton production from their farms. All cotton growers are urged to participate in the referendum on December 14.

Bloodmobile visit set for Monday, Dec. 13

The Rev. R. Paul Strickler, chairman of the Bulloch County Blood Program, announced today that the regular visit of the Regional Bloodmobile is set up for Monday, December 13, from 1 to 6 p. m. at the Recreation Center in Statesboro.

The visit will include all of Statesboro and surrounding areas. The Rev. Strickler in making the announcement said:

"The spirit of giving is in the air. We are entering the year when many hearts are made happy through giving and receiving gifts. Could not your greatest gift be the giving of a pint of your blood which could mean the giving of life to someone whose life is gradually ebbing away because of the need of blood?"

The division chairman for this visit are Mrs. Alfred Dorman, Mrs. Julian Tiltman, Mrs. Billy Jones, Mrs. J. F. Jones, and Mrs. E. Parvish. Each member of the Red Cross executive committee is cooperating with the division chairman.

"We urge all our people in this vicinity to donate blood. I believe that you will respond to this call and prove to the other areas that Statesboro can reach our quota for at least one pint of blood," Rev. Strickler said.

It was pointed out by the recreation superintendent that a building would be needed for the present recreation building for greater use by other county groups and community organizations.

Recreation Board Chairman Everett Williams has directed the recreation superintendent to call a meeting as requested by the Statesboro Lions Club. The meeting is to be held on Friday, January 1, at which time the superintendent is to submit a detailed report of the teenage problem in the community.

At the recent mid-week meeting of the Tri-Hi-Y and the Hi-Y at the Youth Assembly in Atlanta, an delegation from Bulloch County was present. The delegation included a bill calling for a

World-unique' event observed here as BC Master Farmers are honored

It could not happen anywhere else on the face of the earth—that which happened Monday night of this week at the Forest Heights Country Club. Bulloch county's eight Master Farmer Families, the largest number of any county in the nation—in the world—were honored at a dinner at the club with George Pete Donaldson, former citizen of Statesboro, and president of Abraham Baldwin College, as the principal speaker.

The Bulloch County Bank played host at the dinner at the Forest Heights Country Club with the officers and directors of the bank honoring the master farmers. W. G. Cobb, president of the bank, was master of ceremonies. County agent Byron Dyer presented the eight master farmer families. Miss Sallie Hill, vice president of the Progressive Farmer, presented the master farmer selections, as presented by Mr. Cobb.

Mr. Donaldson, a native of Bulloch county, spoke to his hometown folks on Bulloch county of old and as it is today. He told of the progress of the South, of Georgia and of Bulloch county. In praising the master farmers, Mr. Donaldson told of the long hard road to achieve that title and what it takes to make a master farmer.

Chief Sikes was born in Atlanta, and was a resident of Dekalb county before he moved to Statesboro two years ago. He was associated with the Atlanta Police Department for nearly 15 years. Since coming to Statesboro Chief Sikes has completely reorganized the local police force until today it is one of the best in the state. He has 148 members of the police force and is a member of the Georgia Police Association.

In commenting on his decision to remain here Chief Sikes said that he was attracted to the town of Statesboro upon their high regard for law enforcement and the almost complete lack of juvenile delinquency problem.

Police Chief Ernest Sikes to continue as police head here

W. A. (Bill) Bowen, mayor of Statesboro, announced today that Police Chief Ernest L. Sikes will continue to serve as head of the Statesboro Police Department.

He stated that concern had been expressed by many, including the members of the City Council, about an announcement which appeared in an Atlanta newspaper November 24, to the effect that Chief Sikes had accepted a position as chief of the DeKalb County police force.

He added that Chief Sikes did not authorize the announcement, since he had not accepted the position. He said that the City Council was aware that DeKalb county had made Chief Sikes an offer.

He went on to say that the police chief and his family like Statesboro and its citizens and that it is a considerable financial concession for him to remain here as head of the Statesboro police force.

Chief Sikes was born in Atlanta, and was a resident of Dekalb county before he moved to Statesboro two years ago. He was associated with the Atlanta Police Department for nearly 15 years. ALL'S FAIR

Turn backward, turn backward, oh time in thy flight. Make me a GIRL again just for tonight. That's what I thought as I attended a wonderful formal dance at the Recreation Center last Wednesday night. Two lovely girls were being honored by their parents with a formal dance. Sylvia Brunson and Pat Alderman were sweet sixteen and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Brunson and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Alderman, were making the occasion memorable. Sylvia was wearing a gown that would set a girl's heart dancing, and which was designed by Sylvia herself and, according to her home economics teacher, was "What a sixteen-year-old should wear on special evenings out." The strapless bodice was of white lace and the full swirling skirt was black nylon net glittered with rhinestones. A scalloped lace apron in front met at the waist line in back, and there is where Sylvia pinned her black and yellow sash. A matching stole gave a petal effect. The following skirt had the new side treatment which means tiers of nylon flounces, and sweeping the length of the skirt was the yellow satin sash end. She wore an orchid and her costume jewelry was gold. The beauty of the gown was like the rich cinematic scenes in technicolor. Swinging from the rafters were eerie spirals of moss with clusters of pink and white balloons interspersed the length of the dance floor. Over the mantel were silhouettes of the girls, cleverly done by Mrs. J. C. Adams. As green potters contained held gorgeous pink gladioli which established the pink and green motif which was used throughout. Pink pin-up lamps at each end of the mantel spotlighted large placards on which pictures of both Sylvia and Pat were mounted, pictures that had been made this year. The

Plan early for Xmas wedding

According to W. D. Landquist, director of public health, Bulloch Health District, December is nearly as popular a month for weddings as in June. "This year will prove no different," said Dr. Landquist as the 1954 Christmas season approaches, where there will be an increased number of marriages," he went on to say. He urges couples, young and old, planning marriage during the holidays to make plans early. He reminds them, "don't wait until the last day to go to your physician or the health department for your examinations and blood tests which are a necessity these days." He pointed out that it takes several days to get blood test reports back from the state laboratories and the time interval may result in embarrassment and inconvenience if one waits until just three or four days before Christmas, for doctors' offices, the health department office, may be closed and the state laboratories will be closed for several days during that period. "Take care of these items before December 15," he urges, "I'll make everything more pleasant at such an important time." Candles that have been chilled in the refrigerator will burn longer. As ever, JANE.

Woman's Club has Xmas party

The Statesboro Woman's Club annual Christmas party will be held at the Recreation Center on Thursday afternoon, December 16, at 3:30 o'clock. A Christmas program has been planned and will be presented by the Fine Arts Committee with Mrs. E. L. Akina and Mrs. B. B. Morris as chairmen. Hostesses will be the executive board with Mrs. Paul Carroll, first vice president, chairman. Each member of the club is urged to be present and bring a guest. The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet at the Methodist Church on December 13 at 4 o'clock for a combined business and social meeting. Bowen says 'Good News' for housewives who worry-worry

Good news for the housewife is with wearing... not by our method of ironing. It's all done by steam, simple pressure—no rubbing. No iron to push off buttons. Only gentle pressure and the shirt is steamed smooth, beautiful... looking like NEW. And we fold that beautifully laundered shirt neatly, squarely, wrinkleless, and place it in a telephone top wrapper which holds up the collar no matter how long it stays in the dresser drawers. Mr. Bowen suggests that you watch men's shirt collars as you walk along up town or at a party—"you can always tell a home-laundered shirt," he says. "Let us do your husband's and son's shirts. You'll see the wonderful difference, and we'll save you money and time and worry and work. Let the Bowen's Do It—They Live Here" MODEL LAUNDRY

Farm Bureau

J. H. Wyatt was named president of the Brooklet Farm Bureau Wednesday night. A. J. Woods was elected at Port Thursday night and L. Herbert Deal remained at Middleground Thursday night.

Mr. Wyatt has his same officers for another year. John N. Rushing Jr., as vice president, and William Cromley as secretary and treasurer.

To work with Mr. Woods the Port group elected M. L. Taylor vice president, and Billy Brown secretary and treasurer. Middleground remained J. I. Smith vice president and Benny Earl Deal secretary and treasurer.

BROOKLET FARM BUREAU
John C. Cromley, chairman of the county ASC committee, advised the Brooklet chapter that cotton allotment notices were being mailed out and that the voting on quotas for another year would come up December 14. He also stated that they had been advised that there would be a 5 per cent cut in tobacco allotments for 1955.

O. E. Gay, vocational teacher, presented a series of slides on the life cycle of the heel fly and the damage the grubs did to cattle. He recommended that cattlemen use rotenone on their cattle now, either as a spray or dust and rubbed in. Some HBC added to rotenone will help with the lice control efforts, he pointed out.

With a feed shortage facing the local cattlemen, cows will probably have one of the hardest winters in several years to go through. Farmers cannot afford at any time to try feeding and caring for cattle infested with lice, grubs and worms, but this more true with a feed shortage facing them, he stated.

Frank Furr, local accountant, outlined some of the proposed changes in income tax reporting for farmers that would be effective starting January 1, and the need for being ready to take advantage of the social security program farmers would also be under starting this first of the new year. Mr. Furr stated that breeding stock should be listed for a normal life span depreciation in the report next

The group set up Friday night, December 17, for their annual Christmas party. As usual, a Christmas tree will be an exchange of gifts will be the program for this annual event.

"Willie Wirehand" Says
Georgia's Best "Crop"....

... is YOUTH and BRAINS! Yet we were "exporting" this great asset until a few short years ago. Ambitious young Georgians looked over the horizon for opportunity. Even for small creature comforts like running water and "indoor plumbing."

Fortunately this trend has reversed itself. Today Georgia's most valuable "crop" stays close to home—and the soil—adding strength to town and countryside.

This didn't just happen! Better rural roads helped. Better farm and home tools—such as tractors, cars, fertilizers and appliances—made farm life more comfortable—and PROFITABLE. Many of these—including running water—required electricity for power.

In 1935, less than 3 farms in 100 had this source of light and energy. Today 9 out of 10 enjoy comforts city folks take for granted. This came about through COOPERATION!

Electric Power—today—reaches over 230,000 rural Georgians over the lines of Georgia's non-profit, member-owned, RURAL ELECTRIC COOPERATIVES.

We are proud to be one of them—for....

Basketball Band Will Perform At Half-time shows

The college basketball band will perform only four times at ball games this season due to the limited seating capacity in the gym. The dates they are to perform are December 13, January 22, February 10, and February 19.

The college basketball band is not the full marching band but consists of 16 instrumental music majors from the marching band. The seniors in this group plan the program for each ball game and are in charge of rehearsal. They rehearse at 10 o'clock each night in the gym because it is in use at all other times. This arrangement is the only one of its kind in the south.

When the new gym is completed and put in use, the basketball band and majorettes will perform together at every game. They are looking forward to performing in the new gym when they will have enlarged floor space and more freedom and variety in types of shows used, reports Dana King, assistant professor of music.

Two girls from Savannah will have entries.

Francis W. Allen, newly elected representative to the county, met with the Ivanhoe Club Friday night. Mr. Allen enumerated some of the proposed legislation coming before the next session of the legislature and asked their advice on how to vote on it.

The group set up Friday night, December 17, for their annual Christmas party. As usual, a Christmas tree will be an exchange of gifts will be the program for this annual event.

Home Accidents Causing Concern

By W. D. LUNDQUIST
Medical Director, Bulloch Health District

Communities, towns, cities, counties and states are becoming more and more aware of the significance of deaths and injuries occurring in homes as a result of accidents. The amazing thing about such accidents is that investigations show the vast majority of them to be preventable. Does that seem improbable to you?

Home accidents fall into two main categories: HUMAN factors and environmental factors. Human factors refer to the MENTAL, EMOTIONAL and PHYSICAL state of the individual at the particular moment. For example, an adult could use with safety a house hold appliance which would be dangerous in the hands of a small child. A 16-year-old boy could, without to great a risk, climb a tree or a high ladder that would be dangerous for his grandfather. Adults and youngsters alike, when upset, or angry, or tired, are prone to become involved in accidents.

Environmental factors refer to a wide range of conditions and one's home and its environs, which contribute to accidents. An untidy house, with objects scattered on the floor for people to stumble over would be a simple yet dangerous environmental hazard contributing to an accident. Most home accidents are probably caused by a combination of both the human and environmental factors.

Your local health department personnel have been studying causative factors and preventive measures so that they can tell the message to the families of Bulloch county. More and more will be heard by the public about the important subject because we feel that most home accidents causing deaths, crippling conditions and just a few hours of inconvenience can be prevented. Public health people, and in fact the entire community, are and should be in the prevention field when it comes to the health of the community or the individual.

Are home accidents an important health problem? Bulloch county had over 850 MAJOR home accidents in 1953 and an estimated 92,000 (yet, thousands) of minor accidents—almost 4 minor accidents per person for the year caused by such things as cuts, severe bruises, sprains, skinned areas, burns, etc. A lot of them need not have happened if our people had been less careless, or aware of the need for safety, or better informed, shall we say.

Eight hundred and fifty major accidents combined; do you think accidents are due for consideration or are they something that always happens to the other fellow?

Did you know, and statistics will prove it, that home accidents are now the 2ND leading cause of death in children between the ages of 1 and 15? Another thing, for every death, there are probably more than 100 major injuries. Think of the pain, the blood, the hospital and medical bills, absence from schools for these children, just to mention a few of the inconveniences, a word which is certainly an understatement.

We want you to memorize, yes actually memorize the more IMPORTANT causes of home accidents. They are (1) BURNS AND EXPLOSIONS (2) FALLS, (3) MECHANICAL SUFFOCATION, (4) FIRE ARMS, (5) POISONS. Difficult to remember? No.

Watch this paper for detailed breakdowns of CAUSATIVE FACTORS and PREVENTIVE MEASURES. The reduction of home accidents can only be possible if each individual learns the facts and applies them to himself, home, and family. Yours is the responsibility to digest the material and then make it an everyday living experience. It's easy to do.

GEORGIA CORN ACREAGE

OUR HEALTH
By DR. K. R. HERRING

CARE OF THE FARMER
The farmer is the backbone of our country in peace as well as in time of war. We can go to a grocery store and purchase our heart's desire in the way of food, yet if it were not for the farmer our tables would be empty. For this reason the farmer's health is of utmost importance. One who averages heavy weights, endures more weather changes and probably receives less thanks for his efforts than any other group of people.

Under these circumstances it is only natural that some health problems arise within his body due to the strain his spine has been put to. The same is true concerning the farmer's wife. Health problems are easily solved if the cause is found and corrected. The important word in this sentence is corrected.

If you are ailing, save time, money, and misery by receiving Chiropractic care.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE CHANGED
George Roebuck, athletic director at the school, has announced the following change in basketball schedule:

Tuesday night, December 7, the Brooklet-Statesboro game was played in Brooklet gym; and Thursday night, December 16, the Brooklet-Statesboro game will be played in the Statesboro gym. This "swap" was necessary because of a repair work that is being done on the basketball gym.

MYF TO MEET DEC. 22
The Rev. W. H. Ansel, pastor of the Methodist Church, has announced that on Wednesday night, December 22, at 7:30, the members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will present a Christmas program at the church, a playlet, "A True Christmas."

Mrs. W. D. Lee, director of the MYF, will have charge of the program.

CHRISTMAS PLAY
On Friday morning, December 17, at 11:15, Mrs. John A. Robertson will present a group of school children in a Christmas play, "A Bomb for Santa," in the high school auditorium.

Our Health
By DR. K. R. HERRING

CARE OF THE FARMER
The farmer is the backbone of our country in peace as well as in time of war. We can go to a grocery store and purchase our heart's desire in the way of food, yet if it were not for the farmer our tables would be empty. For this reason the farmer's health is of utmost importance. One who averages heavy weights, endures more weather changes and probably receives less thanks for his efforts than any other group of people.

Under these circumstances it is only natural that some health problems arise within his body due to the strain his spine has been put to. The same is true concerning the farmer's wife. Health problems are easily solved if the cause is found and corrected. The important word in this sentence is corrected.

If you are ailing, save time, money, and misery by receiving Chiropractic care.
